 Rapid Delivery Logistics Facility

SIERRA ARMY DEPOT

Sierra is ideally located, properly sized and facilitated to support your Supply Chain requirements.

Our well-trained staff, outstanding transportation network and excellent out-loading capability enables Sierra to help your organization run and maintain a smooth and seamless Supply Chain.

Proven as a strategic power projection platform providing worldwide, world-class logistics support as a military transportation hub Sierra can help you run your Supply Chain by receiving, storing, assembling, preserving, packaging, configuring, maintaining and shipping material, equipment and systems for your customers anywhere in the world, at any time. With this ability Sierra can provide help to you in giving great customer service by getting your product to your customer in a timely and safe manner while helping control your costs. Sierra can be a one-stop, do-it-all logistics.

Strategic

Located in northeastern California, 55 miles north of Reno, Nevada, and is situated on the eastern slopes of the Sierra Nevada Mountains in Honey Lake Valley. Away from high congestion areas and yet close enough to be expeditionary. Our location provides a high desert climate with distinct storage advantages. A perfect location to have your equipment and stock ready to go, with minimal cost for care.

Dedicated Support

We are Just minutes from Interstate 80, providing commercial and military truck transport to all locations. The Union Pacific main line traverses the boundaries of the depot and connects through two interchanges to our 56 miles of internal rail lines and 3 classification yards.

When every minute counts, Sierra is capable of rapid deployment to almost anywhere in the world, anytime. Sierra's proximity to the western seaports and major transportation corridors- coupled with an outstanding internal transportation network, with a airfield capable of handling all military aircraft, including the C5A Galaxy, allow us to get the job done quickly and efficiently.

With low humidity and low precipitation, Sierra's high desert climate allows us to provide our customers with excellent storage opportunities. Sierra has abundant outside storage available for immediate occupancy at minimal cost. Over 90,000 square feet of covered storage space. We have over 106 acres of asphalt and improved hardstand for outside storage. Imagine your assets stored in ready to use configuration- a phone call away from being shipped to any destination you need.

Surge Capabilities. Our highly trained and developed core team of professionals is enhanced by developing partnerships, so we're able to provide nearly inexhaustible capabilities when our capacity is challenged.

People and Facilities. Our industrial facility supports the repair, modification and fabrication of customer assets. We are facilitated and professionally trained in all areas of Supply Chain Management.

Our ideal location, well trained personnel and industrial facilities provides a holistic approach for your Supply Chain Management needs.
